NIGHT FLYING PART OF WORK

(By The Associated Press)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 23.—Under the present plans of Captain H. E. Yarnell, U. S. N., commander of the Hampton Roads naval air station, night flying will soon be a part of the regular training at the station. Recommendations for this feature have been submitted to the Navy Department. To give the planes the greatest assurance of safety four huge runways will be constructed 2,600 feet long and fifty feet wide so that the pilots will have ample room to take off even against the strongest wind. Some of the safety devices that will be set up at the station are the powerful flood lights. Aviation wind cones will be illuminated at night. These cones enable the pilots to tell in what direction the wind is blowing. In addition, directional markers will be placed at each end of the field in order that flyers who are unfamiliar with this section may have the proper guide.

Harry Wooding, Jr. Favors Building a New Courthouse

At a meeting of the Lions Club yesterday at the Burton Hotel the movement for a new courthouse for Danville was discussed by Harry Wooding, Jr. The subject of Mr. Wooding's speech was "The Principles of Lionism," but he took occasion to emphasize the great need of this city for a temple of justice adequate to the needs of the community. He stated that the present building had been built in 1874 and was entirely out of date and too small for present demands. Besides being an eyesore to citizens who took pride in the appearance of the city's public buildings.

He advocated that a court house be built large enough to house all of the city's offices that now occupy quarters in the present court house and in the Municipal building; that the Municipal building be turned over to other civic enterprises, since the property was so entangled as to make the selling of it impossible.

The meeting of the Lions Club which was its regular bi-weekly gathering for luncheon and for the transaction of current business was a rousing affair with a large attendance. The day marked the first anniversary of the organization of the club in this city, and to celebrate the occasion in a fitting manner, Mrs. Zolite Ellis provided a huge and delectable-looking cake for the affair. This cake was disposed of by lottery, B. S. Motley selling the prize.

The club was honored yesterday by a number of distinguished visitors, two members of the Kiwanis club. These were E. B. Smith, manager of the new paper, and George Geoghegan. Another visitor was Wilson M. Brooks, of the advertising department of the new paper.

A communication was read from Mrs. Rucker, Penn. memorializing the club to name a committee to assist in putting across the school bond issue. Favorable action was taken on this request and the personnel of this committee, one from each ward, will be announced in the next few days.

Wayles Harrison made a most encouraging report on the fund-raising campaign. He reported that the Rotarians and Kiwanians had agreed to co-operate with the Lions in the project, thus assuring sufficient funds to make the project a success. Work has already started on the campaign and it is ready for occupancy in the near future.

The Lions, as many as could possibly make the trip, were invited to attend the International Convention in Atlantic City June 26-29.

The attendance prize was won by Dan Dickerson and the single men's prize by Buck Conover.

A delightful entertainment program was presented by Misses Alma, Adams and Gannon, of Averett College, the program consisting of solos and readings.

STRATTON BOOED AT CONVENTION
(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—First harmony between the progressive and orthodox factions of the Northern Baptist Convention developed today when the rival camps joined in criticizing the action of the Rev. John Roach Stratton, of New York, who sought to bar President W. N. F. Faunce of Brown University from the platform for alleged heretical teachings.

The demand met hisses and hoots from all parts of the convention hall where more than 2,000 delegates were in session and throughout the rest of the day were recurring manifestations of disapproval.

Dr. Stratton was ruled out of order by Dr. F. E. Taylor of Indianapolis, president of the convention, after the demonstration had subsided.

DEVOTED WOMEN MISSIONARY PASSES AWAY IN HAWAII
HONOLULU, May 23.—The recent death of Sister Bonaventura reduced to one the number of survivors of the party of seven members of the Order of Franciscan Sisters who arrived here in April, 1833, as the first missionaries to devote their lives to alleviating the sufferings of the inmates of the Kalaupapa leper settlement on the island of Molokai.

Sister Bonaventura, whose secular name was Agnes Carrier, was a native of Syracuse, New York, the mother of the Order of Franciscan Sisters. She was 79 years old.

The only survivor of the party, Sister Crenca, is living now at the Bishop's home at Kalaupapa. The other five sisters—Marianne, Remata, Rosalia, Antonilla and Martha—have been dead for some time.

Latest "Poison Pen" Plot Is Laid To Woman By Experts

By Edward Thierry
NEA Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 23.—Super-detectives who are expert in a new form of detective art are trying to unravel the Maxwell poison pen mystery.

Handwriting experts, skilled also in tracing the typography of type writers, are teamed with alienists trying to find the person who wrote 151 anonymous letters that have kept prominent New Yorkers in a chill of fear for a decade.

George Maxwell, wealthy music publisher, is under indictment and faces trial in July. But the chase has only begun, officials say. "Find a jealous woman," urged the friends of Maxwell, who was the victim of the "poison pen" writer.

"Mr. Maxwell spent $5000 in 1918 in an unsuccessful attempt to find the guilty letter writer," says Elizabeth McDermott, his housekeeper. "A woman must have done it."

"No two typewriters write alike," says Loren C. Horton, handwriting expert for District Attorney Jacob Banton.

"It is almost impossible for two typewriters to be exactly the same except when they are brand new," says Albert Osborn, Jr., whose father has been a handwriting expert for 30 years and who is author of two books on the subject.

The chase continues for the typewriter on which the 151 poison letters were written. Some of the 147 letters first placed in the district attorney's hands were furnished by Allan A. Ryan, the financier, whose wife's name was mentioned by the mysterious writer. Nine women figure in the series of letters, which cover a period of 10 years.

The last four letters, bringing the total to 151, were turned over by Nathan Burkman, counsel for Maxwell. They had been received by the music publisher.

All of the poison letters were typewritten. But this is no disguise, experts say. "If it is possible to find the typewriter that can be no question about identification," says Horton. "The faintest shading in a letter will be a clear clue to an expert. To trace these differences we always use a special kind of carbon. It brings out every shading of the letters distinctly and makes the reading of the character of type a fine art."

"Authors of poison pen letters," says Osborn, "think they are protecting themselves when they use a typewriter, but they really are not doing so at all."

Women are more often guilty of writing poison pen letters than men, alienists say. Jealousy and fancied wrongs usually are the motives. "The first step on the road to insanity," says Osborn.

Often a trail of insanity is left behind. The most famous instance was in France, where for three years, beginning in 1919, a series of letters signed "Tiger Eyes" plagued the town of Tulle. Many persons fell in of the prolonged torture, two were murdered, and three killed themselves. A hypnotist directed suspicion against a young woman. Public opinion was so sharp that the girl's mother committed suicide by jumping into a pond and the daughter tried to do the same, but was rescued. She was tried and found guilty of writing more than 300 letters and sent to prison, but even then many believed she had been wrongly accused.

Two women in the State of Washington killed themselves a few years ago after receiving anonymous letters containing false accusations.

Two murders in California were attributed to the same cause. Three years ago the pestilence broke out in Littlehampton, England. A woman was twice arrested, convicted and given a prison sentence. But the letters did not cease. Scotland Yard had not yet solved the mystery.

One of the famous poison pen cases occurred in Elizabeth, N. J., early in 1914. A woman was arrested and a sensational trial ensued, but the mystery was never satisfactorily solved.

Two other New Jersey towns had a similar plague. In Passaic two schoolgirls were slandered; in Bloomfield the object was to stop a wedding.

In 1915 scores of letters were written to city and county officials in Middletown, N. J., as well as to many prominent residents. Most of the letters involved women about to be married. The previous year there was an outbreak in Ypsilanti, Mich., and the letters to a woman were responsible.

There was an epidemic in New York in 1915, one in Philadelphia in 1921, and a recent one in Forest Hills, L. I. Women usually were the victims.

Cars Requested To Take People To Conference

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here yesterday afternoon a resolution was passed calling upon owners of automobiles in the city to lend their cars to carry as many Danville people as possible to the Rural Life Conference at Whitwell on Saturday. Those car owners who respond to the request are asked to report at the Chamber of Commerce at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning.

The first day of the conference, Friday, has been set apart as school day and some of the most prominent educators of the state and nation will be in attendance and make addresses. Governor Trinkle will also make an address. The opening of the conference will be at the Chamber of Commerce at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning. Among the educators who will speak on the first day will be Dr. A. E. Winship, editor of the New England Journal of Education.

Saturday will be "Far mDay" and will be of especial interest to the farmers of this county. Senator Carter Glass will be the principal speaker of the exercises in the forenoon.

The club women of Danville have been given a special invitation to attend the exercises to be held on Saturday afternoon. Speakers at the afternoon session will include Dr. C. E. Lindeman, of North Carolina, and Prof. John R. Hutchison, of V. P. I.

The commencement exercises of the Whitwell High school will make up part of the program on Friday afternoon.

The conference has been given the hearty support and co-operation of the people of the county and city in recognition of the great work which has been accomplished by the county school.

MOBILIZATION PLAN ADOPTED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 23.—A general army mobilization plan in line with the requirements of the national defense act, has virtually been completed after extensive general staff study and will be ready, it was learned today, to be placed in the hands of General Pershing, as chief of staff, before the end of June.

The plan is so extensive in scope as to provide for the mobilization of company and even smaller units of the organized reserves and national guards. It also provides for voluntary recruiting during a war emergency pending the passage of a draft act.

CHAMBER GIVES ENDORSEMENT TO RURAL MEETING

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce, which has cordially endorsed and is co-operating in the success of the Whitwell Community Life conference scheduled for tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, yesterday held a meeting at which plans were inaugurated not only to encourage as many Danville people as possible to attend it, but to provide means of transportation to Whitwell on Saturday as many as can go out for the day's program.

It was decided to secure as many motor-cars as can be had for the purpose to go out on Saturday morning, leaving the Chamber of Commerce corner at 9:30 A. M. in order to reach Whitwell in time for the morning program at 10. The feature of which is an address by United States Senator Carter Glass, of Lynchburg. All who have cars which they are willing to offer for this service are requested to notify the secretary of the Chamber. In order to promote the attendance of many representative citizens and business men as practicable, the following were named as a committee to make a canvass for motor-cars and to interest citizens in this commingling of the county and city people at a county educational center:

M. O. Nelson, M. Secor, L. L. Kaufman, D. H. Penn, H. P. Watkins, J. A. Herman, A. D. Starling, W. R. Jordan, E. G. Anderson and John B. Harvie.

The early leaving hour is necessary to the program at Whitwell which will begin at 10, and the address of Senator Carter Glass will be about the first feature. Saturday was selected as the day on which to make special efforts to induce many citizens to attend because it is believed that the attendance of the county people will be greater on that day than on Friday, Saturday being the more of a holiday rest day in the country than any other work day.

Governor Trinkle, who will speak at Whitwell on Friday, is expected to reach Danville on the morning train and will be met by Colonel E. S. Field who will be with him at breakfast and drive over with him. Many from Danville will go over to hear the governor's address and sign that of Harris Hart, superintendent of public instruction, and the other speakers on the program.

Further announcement concerning the special exercises on Children's Day will be made later. A program of interest concerning the work in Brazil will be presented on this occasion, and a special offering for the mission work in that country will be received.

Baldwin Is Busy Making Cabinet

Old Members Resign According to Custom—New Cabinet Will Be Completed by Tomorrow Night.

By JOHN STEEL
(Copyright, 1923, Chicago Tribune)
LONDON, May 23.—Stanley Baldwin, the new prime minister, is busy making his cabinet which he hopes to have completed by tomorrow night so that the newly appointed ministers can take the king's hand when the monarch returns to London from Aldershot on Friday. All the old ministers handed in their resignations according to the usual custom, so England is now without ministers except the prime minister.

It is expected that most of the ministers will be reappointed to their old posts. It has been definitely announced that Lord Curzon has agreed to continue as foreign minister and the personal indication of this was that he personally saw Lord Curzon, Russian representative, this afternoon. Of course he is not yet foreign minister and cannot be until he kisses the king's hand on Friday afternoon. There was talk that Lord Curzon, angry because he was passed by, might refuse to see a with Mr. Baldwin, but this trouble appears to have been smoothed over.

There is much speculation about the chancellorship of the exchequer which was held by Mr. Baldwin in the former Lloyd George government. It is known that Mr. Baldwin has been trying to induce Sir Robert Horne, who held the office under David Lloyd George, to accept the appointment, but Sir Robert issued a formal statement at Glasgow today saying "I was not true to that he had accepted the post. He said that he had just made a number of lucrative financial arrangements which he would not like to have to cancel if he accepted the office."

There is much doubt about the future of W. C. Biddeman, the home secretary. He is likely to be made a scapegoat for the Irish deportee murder which resulted in the death of the crown on whose advice he acted.

Lord Derby will continue as war minister and Sir Samuel Hoare as air minister. It is announced that Winston Churchill, who has been a liberal, has decided to join the Conservatives.

Mr. Baldwin left London this afternoon for a couple of days rest at Chequers before entering on the hard work of preparing for the meeting of parliament on Monday. It is now fairly stated in political circles that his last straw which turned the scale against Lord Curzon for Mr. Baldwin was the threat of the Labor party to make the parliamentary government impossible if a bill was chosen and it is a fact that the passing over of Curzon has definitely established as a constitutional principle the stand that the prime minister must be in the House of Commons.

The Labor party, in addition to this principle, objected strongly to Lord Curzon because of his Russian policy which the Laborites genuinely feared might lead to work Mr. Baldwin is known to be much more moderate in his attitude towards the Soviets and the politicians are now digging up a speech in the Russian debate in the House of Commons in which he declared any idea of the Russian note being a ultimatum or that Great Britain would insist on its acceptance syllable by syllable by the Soviets.

GERMAN BOATS ARE NOT TO BE RECONDITIONED
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Because of the excessive cost, the Shipping Board today abandoned its plan for reconditioning the former German Lines Agamemnon and Mount Vernon. Instead the board will recondition two ships smaller in size than the Leviathan but comparable in every way to that ship for trans-Atlantic service in conjunction with the Leviathan.

Survey of the Mount Vernon and Agamemnon resulted in estimates that their reconditioning as modern passenger ships would cost $16,000,000. Ship builders informed the board that vessels superior to them and more adequate for the North Atlantic trade could be constructed in American yards at $12,000,000 each and the board today adopted a resolution making the new ships a part of the next budget.

QUEEN OF BOOZE FLEET LEAVES HER POSITION
(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., May 23.—The steam yacht Istar, queen of the rum fleet, disappeared today from her position off the Virginia Capes, after the government tug, Mascoutin, with guns mounted and a landing party, had moved within hailing distance. Later in the day the British schooner, Mary Beatrice, said to be liquor-laden, from Nassau, anchored nearby, but reports tonight indicated that she was "beached" out.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED ON SOUTHERN RY. LAST YEAR

Not a single death, the report showed, resulted from an accident to trains or negligence of the railway. The four deaths recorded, it was stated, were due to violation of safety rules by the passengers.

The Southern operated a total of 177,954 passenger trains carrying a total of 1,763,569 persons, the report showed.

MANVILLE SAYS BLACK ART GOT MON'Y FROM HIM
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 23.—The claim of Charles B. Manville, wealthy 80-year-old asbestos manufacturer, that he had been lured into investing in worthless oil stock by the aid of a practitioner of "black art" was strenuously denied by the alleged practitioner, Miss Beulah Thompson, at today's session of the trial of $21,000 suit brought against Manville by Dr. Alfonso E. Austin.

Dr. Austin, who is suing on notes he claims to have signed for Manville, also testified in detail of the asbestos manufacturer's charge of treachery, made in a counter-claim for $20,000 which Manville alleges Dr. Austin induced him to invest in Pennsylvania and Kentucky oil stocks. Manville testified yesterday that Miss Thompson, to whom he had been taken by Dr. Austin, advised him to buy the stock.

Denying that she ever had advised Manville on business matters, Miss Thompson testified, after declaring she was a spiritualist and not a "black art" seeress:

"Mr. Manville came to me and said he had not been to sleep for months because of the illness of his wife and because of business relations with his sons who, he said, had stolen his property."

"I assured him I felt that in due time the family matters would be adjusted, and told him we believed, in our religion, the philosophy of spiritualism, that after one has passed away, he or she passes to a higher and grander life in that world beyond."

She denied Manville's testimony that on one visit to her, a "spirit" was made to cry "Oh, C. B." an appellation his wife frequently had used. Manville never visited her after his wife's death, she asserted.

She denied, as did Dr. Austin, that the names of Charles M. Schwab and other noted financiers had been used as those of persons who came to her for business advice.

ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAWS IS GIVEN SETBACK
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Formal enforcement has received a setback today, according to statement tonight from Captain Seaton, founder and executive head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, who told these as the supreme court decision on the carrying of liquor by American ships on the high seas, the repeal of the Mullan-Gage enforcement law by the New York legislature, the refusal of the Pennsylvania legislature to pass the $20,000 enforcement item, and the decision of Judge Knox declaring that the limit on the number of physicians prescriptions was unconstitutional.

"All of these constitute successful assaults against the bulwarks of legislation," declaring Captain Seaton mentioned "reflex" either the sentiment of the people or the supremacy of the constitution over the whimsy of the zealot. The first is true of the action by the New York and Pennsylvania legislatures, while the latter sets the bounds to which puritanism can go in a free country, and points the way to an approach to the whole question of the liquor traffic along with an effort to secure an appeal for their practical application, all four incidents have further opened the flood gates to the illicit liquor traffic, although this has come through the inherent weakness of the Volstead act itself.

"As regards the supreme court decision, it greatly complicates the international situation and at the same time removes the last hope of securing international cooperation in the war against rum running on the high seas. While the aridity of the 3 mile limit has been prevented this has been at the cost of unqualified affirmation of the complete immunity of all the rest of the ocean. As a result, rum carrying on the high seas has been given the sanction of the highest court in the land. Consequently, Secretary of State Hughes is checked at the outset in his search for an effective argument in any overtures which the state department may make to foreign governments. Before the decision rum laden vessels sailing toward American shores were open to the logical imputation that their mission involved illegal intentions. Today, however, no such moves can be ascribed, as they may well be on their way to stock up both American and foreign vessels on their east bound voyages from American ports—an entirely legal object under the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court. That the rum runners will gain by this altered aspect of the situation is obvious."

CONVICT BOSS WILL BE PLACED ON TRIAL TODAY
(By The Associated Press)
CROSS CITY, Fla., May 23.—The state tomorrow will again attempt to place Walter Higinbotham, convict whipping boss, on trial here on a charge of murder growing out of the death of Martin Tabert, of North Dakota, who died while serving as a convict in the county lease camp of the Putnam Lumber Company near here 16 months ago.

Higinbotham faced trial last week but the proceedings were halted when the defense filed affidavits disqualifying Judge Mallory Horn, charging him with being prejudiced. Under a Florida statute a trial jurist can be disqualified by an affidavit by the defendant supported by affidavits of two citizens.

Judge Campbell of the first district will succeed Judge Horn. The new trial jurist was enroute here tonight from Tallahassee where he conferred with Governor Hardee. Attorneys representing the states of Florida and North Dakota arrived here tonight, while attorneys for the defense will reach here early tomorrow. The trial will be held in a little English Church situated in the wild woods.

Former Wife of "King" Says He Was Youthful Shiek
(Special to The Bee)
PORTSMOUTH, O., May 24.—"King" Benjamin Purnell was a shiek, it seems, long before Rodolph Valentino was born. His violent protestations of love still ring in the ears of the backwoods lass he wooed and won in the mountains of "ol Kaintuck." And this despite the fact the fires of that love were extinguished some two score years ago.

The mountain girl, now a woman of 60, is Mrs. Angeline Brown Purnell Barnett Stephens, first wife of the head of the House of David cult. Picked Wild Flowers.

"Ben and I would walk up into the mountains," she testifies. "He would pick wild flowers and fix them prettily in my hair. Then he would whistle and the birds would chirp love songs."

That was 45 years ago. Which was 80 years before Ben became "seventh messenger angel of the Kingdom of God," and took up his abode at the royal palace in Shiloh, near Benton Harbor, Mich. Purnell was 18. And she was 15. They were married in Greenup county, Ky.

"Ben was a huckster," Mrs. Stephens continues. He gathered eggs and vegetables in our neighborhood and took them to the Ohio River and sent them to Cincinnati and Louisville.

"But he didn't have any more religion than a possum in those days. He would go to church just to see the pretty girls."

"Our daughter was only 2 when he left me for another woman. Several years later I heard he had become a wandering evangelist. Then I heard he had divorced me in Indiana."

Know He'd Be Wealthy.
"I always thought he would be wealthy some day. Although he was lazy when he was courtin' me, he always told me he could make a lot of money easy."

"When he was with me, he shaved and had his hair cut just like other men."

Mrs. Stephens, who says she has been married twice since Purnell quit their home, maintains she has not seen him since he left.

But her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Evans, entertained her father and his second wife in her home here 20 years ago when "King Ben" preached in Portsmouth.

Purnell's first wife lives with her daughter and grandchildren. She takes in washing to help make "ends meet."

72 Barnard College Juniors Confess Having Been On "Bat"
NEW YORK, May 24.—Have you ever been on a "bat?" To which 72 girls in this year's junior class at Barnard College answered frankly, "Yes," and 24 answered, perhaps just as frankly, "No."

Would you ever go again? To which 50 of the 72 again answered, "Yes." The 22 who wouldn't probably have their reasons, but they are not recorded in the Mortar Board year-book of the college just published.

Nor did the inquisitive editors of the Mortar Board stop there. They wanted to know how many nights a week the members of the class went out—and the class obligingly told them. It figures out four nights a week on an average. Whether the editors inquired what time they got home is not known, at any rate it is not recorded in the year-book.

The answers to "Do you smoke?" are, however, with 52 in the affirmative and 20 in the negative. Of the 68, 10 used to, but have now sworn off.

Bobbed-hair statistics, as compiled by the Mortar Board, are: Bobbed, 58; not bobbed, 64; once bobbed, but now growing out, 6.

Other questions and answers are: Do you wear knickers to college? Yes, 2; no, 110.

How do you wear your goloshes? Open, 30; closed, 30.

Have you read "Jurgin?" Yes, 29; no, 60.

Have you been engaged? Yes, 36; no, 52.

At Brooks Hall, the college dormitory, no one could be found today who would venture to give a technical definition of a "bat." One sophomore miss said she thought it meant a wild party, but on being asked how wild, confessed she was not an expert on the subject and really couldn't say.

RUSSIA MAKES CONCESSIONS TO BRITISH NOTE

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, May 23.—Russia, in a note signed by Leonid Krassin, the Soviet representative here and personally handed by him to Lord Curzon at the foreign office this afternoon, makes important concessions to the demands made in the British ultimatum to the Soviet government recently. The note explains these concessions are made because the Soviet government does not desire to give ground for placing even the smallest degree of responsibility for the result of a possible breach between Russia and England upon the Soviet government, even indirectly.

The note further declares that such a breach, it is felt, would create a basis for action to carry out the aggressive aims of the militarist element in most countries, even independently of the will of the British government.

The note offers on behalf of Russia the conclusion of a conference giving Great Britain fishing rights outside the three mile limit off the Russian coast, but still insists that an international conference is necessary to settle the territorial limit question.

In political quarters the note was regarded as displaying the moderating and conciliatory hand of Krassin, who had a half hour talk with Curzon in delivering the note.

PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATION TO SEASON CONVENTION WELL

SENATOR GEORGE W. PEPPER BY HARRY HUNT (Special to The Bee.)

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Rock-ribbed Pennsylvania, the good old Gibraltar of the G. O. P., is the first state of the reservation in the movement for renomination and reelection of Warren G. Harding as president.

At a conference of the Pennsylvania members of Congress, held in Atlantic City, decision was reached to support the selection of an unopposed delegation to the 1924 Republican convention.

This, in the face of diplomatic suggestions from Harding henchmen that it would timely and significant—also helpful—if the Keystone state senators and representatives should sponsor a delegation pledged to support Harding for a second term.

Back of the decision reached lies a double motive. The first and most moving one is of revenge.

They Are Peevish.

Harding has disgraced many of the pet recommendations of the Pennsylvania boys in placing patronage. Their slice at the pie counter has been neither luscious nor large.

And considering the fact that Pennsylvania felt it nominated Harding, and therefore should have had fat pickings, they feel they have been "done dirt."

Next to the desire to register a dig at Harding, the Pennsylvania's action was due to their desire to boost early and late for a favorite son candidate of their own—Senator George Wharton Pepper.

In view of this situation, Pepper played, to all appearances, a passive part in the Atlantic City conclave. Senator Reed, who is particularly sore at Harding over patronage refusals, led the hymn of hate.

May Be Serious.

This Pennsylvania situation bids fair to be a really serious obstacle in the way of a harmonious renomination for Harding. If the Congressional delegation, controlling as they do in most of the local organizations, machinery, can put across their ticket of unopposed delegates, that sets over into the debit column—either for purposes of trading or of active opposition—a block of 86 votes. Which is no small handicap.

On the other hand, there seems some likelihood that the Congressional delegation, assuming direction of Pennsylvania's presidential program, may be brought up with a bump by the Pinchot progressive group within the state, which while not defining its position with respect to Harding does not look kindly on the kindling of a presidential Pepper pot.

THIRTY PERSONS WERE KILLED IN MEXICALI FIRE

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICALI, Lower California, May 23.—Major Juan Lorea issued a statement today that 30 persons were known to have lost their lives in the fire which destroyed a section of this city last night.

Mayor Lorea stated 30 bodies had been recovered and had been taken to the morgue. The bodies were not recognizable, he said.

All were recovered from the surface of the city, and were found in the motion picture theater where the fire started. The majority were found in the vicinity of the Paris Cafe, where many Chinese had lodgings, he declared.

The mayor official estimated the property loss at $3,000,000. A checking today placed the property loss at about $3,000,000 with more than one-third covered by insurance, according to adjusters.

Nearly 50 buildings, many of them flimsy structures and large quantities of liquors, rice and general merchandise, were destroyed.

Mexicali officials said no help was needed, although it was reported fully 1,500 had been rendered homeless.

Federal troops are guarding the fire district.

UNIFORM LEVEL OF REDISCOUNT RATES BE HELD

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Federal Reserve discount rates will be maintained at their uniform level of 4-1-2 per cent for the present because of satisfactory business conditions throughout the country, it was announced today at the conclusion of the meeting of the board's advisory council.

Members of the Council as well as the Reserve Board maintained strict secrecy regarding the council's discussion, and aside from the announcement relative to rediscount rates, nothing official was forthcoming.

It was known, however, the two days discussion had included every phase of the economic conditions obtaining throughout the country with the question of extending the Federal Reserve Banking activities into foreign lands and the proposition of abolishing the present list of services performed free by the Reserve Banks.

There was nothing to confirm reports that the council had made a recommendation to the board relative to the granting of the right to any Reserve Bank to establish an agency in Havana. Applications for that privilege filed by the Boston and Atlanta Banks are pending before the board and it was stated officially that the policy involved had been gone into thoroughly.

Headache and Stomach Troubles are Gone Now

"Why thousands of people will insist on leading a miserable life because of a weak, disordered stomach is beyond me," declared a New Jersey druggist the other day.

There's one grand remedy that I always gladly recommend for the most stubborn cases of chronic indigestion or gastritis and that is Dare's Mentha Peppan.

Mary Stone, of Atlantic City, N. J., was all who suffer from indigestion, headache and general weakness to know about it. She writes:

Dear Sir—For years I have been a constant sufferer with indigestion, headaches, dull feelings and a general weakness. I recommend using Dare's Mentha Peppan upon the recommendation of a friend, and after taking a few bottles I found that it had not only strengthened me generally, but that I could eat anything that I wanted to.

The results have really been wonderful. I recommend Dare's Mentha Peppan to anyone who suffers from your wonderful medicine to anyone. You can get it at all good druggists.

C. B. Smith Is Given One Month and $50 Fine In Rum Case

(By The Associated Press)

C. B. Smith was convicted yesterday in Chatham court of violation of the rum act in the case of the 730 gallons of liquor that was found in a car and on his place.

December 27, 1922, and was given 30 days in jail and fined $50. He was also placed under a bond of $1,000 for his good behavior for one year.

Smith, son of C. B. Smith, pleaded guilty at the last term of court on a similar charge and was sentenced to four months in jail and a fine of $300 was imposed.

Smith now has a 6 months sentence imposed last July in a liquor case starting him in the jail, making in all that he will have to serve.

In the Smith case a jury was empaneled and the evidence was heard, but before there was any argument, a compromise was reached by counsel for defense and the commonwealth's attorney.

Many other cases were disposed of yesterday in the Chatham court, a large percentage of these having been worked up by the Schoolfield police department, which has been quite energetic for the past year, especially in regard to Mapp act violations.

One man, J. L. Sires, of Lynchburg, was given a maximum sentence of 12 months and $500, for transporting liquor, his sentence being 6 months, with a fine of $500.

Other cases were: L. E. Overton $10 for drinking in a public place, Clyde Jenkins $150 and 8 months transporting; Oscar Cook, 2 months and $100 transporting; Chas. Pritchett, 2 months and $100, transporting; Cas. sell Finney, 2 months and -100, distilling; John Cook, one month and -50, transporting; Buddy Haynes and Willie Haynes one month and -50 each; Lewis Watkins, one month and $50, transporting; Walter Reynolds, one month and $50; Sam Garland, 2 months and $100, transporting; Chas. Riley, one month and $100, transporting; Hugh Scofield, one month and $50, transporting, the jail sentence in this case being suspended upon condition that he leave the state.

Gordon Haley and Wesley Wilson pleaded guilty to house-breaking and were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Present Portraits Of Past Masters

At a meeting of the General Committee of the Masonic bodies of Danville, held in the lodge-room in the temple last night, plans for next Monday's housewarming and reception and the Masonic members' meeting scheduled for the evening were about whipped into final shape.

Chapman B. W. Beach, a Grand lodge officer, presided and the various committees were well represented.

One of the decisions reached by the committee was to have the 8 p. m. meeting for Masons only in the auditorium, rather than in the lodge-room because of the large capacity of the tenth floor hall. It was also agreed that the dedication of the lodge-room by the Grand lodge officers and the added features would probably extend the time of the meeting scheduled for 2 p. m., until shortly after 4, and the hours for the public reception and the serving of light refreshment were advanced to from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. Grand Master James E. Price, presides over the dedicatory program. The public will be welcomed to attend these exercises.

In the evening, the Masonic meeting will be marked by short addresses by the Grand master, by Deputy Master Callahan, if he can be here—a matter he is yet unable to determine positively by reason of the multiplicity of interests and engagements—and an address by Grand Chaplain McFadden. Music will fill the interludes between the addresses, this consisting of both vocal and instrumental duet and a solo or two. The buffet supper will be served beginning at 9:45, thus giving a little more time for this and for the added features.

The presentation of the most distinguished portraits of two of its past masters, the late Julius Kaufman and the late Robert Brydon, named in the order of their decease. Hon. Eugene Withers, a past master of the lodge and long-time friend of the two distinguished Masons and one of the most accomplished public speakers in Virginia. Both these revered former masters were active in the lodge for many years. Dr. Brydon for more than half the trail of the new lodge-room.

Colonel Oliver W. Dudley, a veteran past master, will preside at the evening Masonic meeting, and Hon. H. O. Kerns, a former Grand master, will present Grand Master Price.

WHIPPING BAN PLACED IN FLA.

(By The Associated Press)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 23.—Whipping of convicts became a discarded institution in this state today, when Governor Hardee signed an executive measure outlawing it.

Commissioner of Agriculture S. A. McRae immediately issued instructions to convict wardens to the effect that the corporal punishment ban was the bill already passed by both houses to regulate the things past the convict lease system.

A committee of the two houses of the assembly which took up the question of the point at issue as to when the practice should be stopped prepared to make its report, setting January 1, next, as the time.

Commissioner McRae acted promptly in compliance with the provisions of the law banning corporal punishment.

Alkali In Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing to use is Mulisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonsful of Mulisified is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulisified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure and ask for "Mulisified"—adv.

HANDWORK ADDS TO BEAUTY OF CHILDREN'S DRESSES

(Special to The Bee.)
NOTHING is so pretty on frocks as touches of hand embroidery. One bloomer suit sketched is made with a short dress like a smock trimmed with a cross-stitch bunny border. Pongee was the material used for the model and the embroidering was done in brown.

A new style in children's dresses is seen in the diminutive frock whose sleeves are cut as part of the front and back and merely joined by means of the embroidery on the shoulders.

Lazy-daisy and running stitches are used for the designs on the other two suits, one of the mwhite with jade wool, the other a dress-up costume of taffeta with yellow and blue wool.

CONDITIONS IN COUNTRY BETTER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—An encouraging estimate of business conditions and a promise of further help by the War Finance Corporation were contained in a statement made today by Fred Starck, acting head of the corporation, after a conference with President Harding.

Mr. Starck declared that despite the impression in many quarters the corporation was making no effort to force liquidation of the loans of many millions of dollars it has outstanding, and predicted Congress would be asked at its next session to pass additional legislation for the relief of cattle interests in the southwest where herds have been taken into Mexico for grazing. He asserted that in the main, however, the remedy for present grievances lies in sensible thinking and hard work rather than in legislation.

As managing director of the Finance Corporation, Mr. Starck recently made a tour of the south and west, traveling many thousands of miles by airplane and inquiring into the financial condition of many industries. He reported the results of this canvass to the president at their conference today, and also discussed some features of the political situation and of Mr. Harding's forthcoming trip across the continent and to Alaska. He said afterward that the president intended to "discuss every vital topic frankly and courageously" in the speeches he will make in western cities.

BANKS PAY PEKING POLICE TO FORESTALL WAGE STRIKE

PEKING, May 23.—To prevent a strike of metropolitan police, whose pay is five months in arrears, the native banks of the capital have subscribed half a million dollars as a loan to the ministry of finance which is said to have admitted its inability to hold out any hope of relief for the city guardians.

Representatives of the banks, guilds, and commercial institutions are agitating for a reorganization of the police force with a view to removing control from the central government and providing a more stable source of revenue for their pay.

Wonderful Results from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Beloit, Wis.—"My female trouble was brought on by overwork. I had worked in stores and had to do heavier work than my strength could stand, and had to be on my feet most of the time. Finally I had to give up this work entirely and stay at home. Doctor's medicine did not give me much relief, and my mother wanted me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took a couple of bottles of it and thought it did not help me as much as it should, so I gave it up to try something else. Nothing I took helped me much, so I finally decided to give the Vegetable Compound another trial and to take enough of it to make sure it would help me. I have taken it over a year now and it has brought wonderful results. I have gained from 98 to 110 pounds and am keeping house now. My friends all notice the change in my health. I will be glad to answer all letters that women write to me about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. W. G. MONSON, 1515 Park Ave., Beloit, Wis.

French Cabinet Considers Ruhr

PARIS, May 23.—With a great croaking of its joints from its long inaction, the cabinet today rolled into the beginning of discussions on the Ruhr.

Intimations on the foreign policy have been taboo since the occupation of the Ruhr and the government has not asked a vote of confidence since the Paris conference in January.

Today, with twenty orators already inscribed and others adding every minute, the Ruhr debate promises to occupy the full session, and in all probability Premier Poincaré will be forced to demand a confidence vote before it is ended.

The government is not willing to permit interpellations, but it is obliged to go to the chamber to ask for extra appropriations for the cost of the Ruhr occupation. The appropriators undoubtedly will be granted a whole lot of concentration by the opposition on any one item might force the cabinet to demand a confidence vote.

This possibility jammed the chamber and the galleries this afternoon and the entire cabinet ministers' bench.

Shortly before 7 o'clock, the second orator finished and the chamber adjourned the Ruhr debate, returning to the order of the day.

The orators included the socialist chiefs, Leon Blum and Vincent Auriol, as well as M. Herriot, chief of the "left block." The royalist chief, M. Laidet, the Clementine leader, M. Tardieu, and Louis Loucheur, were added this afternoon.

M. Blum was added to the list of speakers this evening.

At the conclusion of the speaking Premier Poincaré will take the tribune to expound the government position. Whether he will permit interpellations while he is on the tribune is still not settled, although the cabinet is definitely against such a procedure.

TWIN BEDS TONIGHT

"Twin Beds," Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's Festival of Laughter, renewed from one end of the country to the other as one of the emphatic standing comedy hits, will be presented at the Majestic by the Picture Players, tonight, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

"Twin Beds" is a joyful, rollicking farce, clean as a high wind, swift moving in its action, brilliantly snappy and vivid in its dialogue and adroit and sure in its characterization.

The story is built around the difficulties of three couples living in a fashionable apartment house, with most of the neighbors desirable and undesirable, always underfoot. They first achieve neighborliness and then have it taken upon them; finally they move to escape it, but without remarkable success.

It is in "Twin Beds" that you will find the enchanting little Blanche Hawkins who couldn't see why her domestic husband did not want her to bring in the neighbors for parties.

Five Persons Killed and Many Injured In German Riots

(By The Associated Press)

DORTMUND, May 23.—Five persons were killed, including one woman and one child, and from sixty to eighty persons were wounded last night in conflicts between striking workmen and the police, according to the casualty lists issued by both the workers and the police.

The Dortmund police and citizens tonight were forming a self protection force against the riotous elements. This force is being armed with clubs, as fire arms are forbidden by the French. The German police say the strikers are organized in units, each of one hundred men, and are well supplied with automatic pistols.

Many thousands of strikers attended mass meetings today in Dortmund and other towns in the mining district and passed resolutions to use every effort to extend the strike throughout the Ruhr and the Rhineland. It is estimated 80,000 men have quit work in the Dortmund district. Most of these are coal miners who went on strike last week but have been joined in the last few days by workmen from two big iron and steel plants.

The strikers are demanding a 50 per cent increase in wages because of the high cost of living and the depreciation in the value of the mark. Speakers at the meeting today said the men were on a "hunger strike." They cited prices to show that the cost of living had doubled in the last few days.

Direct action against the rising cost in living was taken today in two towns, Steele and Kay, where German commissions of control made the rounds of stores and markets and insisted that the prices be reduced to prices by half or more. Sometimes they stationed members of the commission in stores to supervise sales and handle the cash. Many women accompanied the commissions on their rounds and took immediate advantage of the new bargain prices the commissions enforced.

German officials describe the strikers as Communists, but the Communists leaders say the workers include men of all parties.

The Berlin government is declared to be greatly concerned over the strike and to have sent observers here to make a report on the movement. A number of the newspaper blame the agitation on "foreigners." One of the charges that the French have encouraged the strike. The Dortmund railway men in a statement describe the strike as "more political than economic."

TREASURY WILL WIPE OUT ISSUE VICTORY NOTES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Subscriptions totaling $68,722.800 have been accepted by the Treasury to the issue of notes floated May 15 to wipe out outstanding Victory notes, the last of which matured May 29. Announcement was made tonight that in accepting this amount, the Treasury declined to receive almost an equal amount, total subscriptions to the new notes which mature March 15, 1927, having amounted to $1,234,530,000. All subscriptions for the new issue aggregating $286,669,900 were taken. The cash sales of the notes taken therefore amounted to $382,652,900.

DEROODE, FORMER CAPTAIN, GOES ON TRIAL FOR FRAUD

BALTIMORE, Md., May 23.—Louis Remsen DeRoode went on trial in criminal court here today on charges of obtaining $52,000 in securities by false representation from local investment houses.

The case, insanity would be the defense and entered a plea of not guilty. DeRoode, who is an ex-captain of marines and served with gallantry in the world war, was arrested in a fashionable apartment house on Riverside Drive, New York, disguised as a mad man.

His counsel told the jury that DeRoode had been subject to hallucinations since childhood and that there was insanity in both his father's and mother's families.

WANT A PIANO? MAKE ONE; THIS MAN DID IT IN 3 YEARS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 24.—A music lover in West Haven makes his own pianos.

"It's the only way to give them a soul," he says.

It took him more than three years to make his first instrument, but Joseph Himpe kept at it until he was finished.

Now he can make one in three or four months.

A piano tuner by trade, he wanted to become a musician. He had no time or money for lessons, so he began teaching himself.

"After four years of desultory practice, at noon hours and in the evenings," says Himpe, "I found that I could play the most difficult compositions with ease and accuracy."

But he had no piano of his own. So he gradually started to collect old parts of discarded instruments. At his leisure he repaired them, and started the work over again.

"Without the help or guidance of anyone," he says, "I drew my plans, made my model and built every bit of my piano by hand."

And now he plays it happily and contentedly.

Women Win Right Of Representation At Gen'l Assembly

(By The Associated Press)

MONTREAT, N. C., May 23.—The women today won the right of representation on executive committees of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church by the overwhelming vote of 140 to 49.

Advocates of the minority report favoring the granting of the overtures of St. Johns Presbytery, Florida, presenting the women's request, drove supporters of the minority statement into an admission of defeat before the vote was taken, when Dr. R. E. Reed, Columbia, S. C., former moderator and chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, asserted on the floor that he realized his position was lost.

"I cannot argue against the great work the women have accomplished in the church," Dr. Reed continued, "but I do question whether we can place women in executive positions according with the teachings of God's word."

Sixty three per cent. of the membership of the Southern Presbyterian Church is composed of women, Judge S. F. Hobbs, Selma, Ala., a commissioner, declared in submitting the minority report, adding that over half of the church missionaries and 99 per cent. of the members of mission study bodies also are women. The challenged opponents to the overture to show cause why the women should not be recognized.

Declaring that the women had contributed more than $1,000,000 for Dr. McCorkle, Rock Bridge Bath, mission work during the past year, Va., stated he believed they should have a voice in determining how the funds should be expended. Dr. Egbert W. Smith, Nashville, executive secretary of the foreign mission committee would prove of great assistance, especially in his work. G. W. Kirk, Tusculum, Ala., took the same position.

The memberships on committees do not give the women a vote in the assembly sessions, but they have a direct voice to that body.

Dr. Reed was the only speaker in behalf of the majority report, and the vote on the minority statement, offered as a substitute, came after a day filled with heated debates and the transaction of mission with the legation.

One of the striking developments was the position the assembly took in advising the Presbyterian Church S. U. S. A., that it considered the General Council of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches in American an advisory body, and that it did not "feel there is occasion for re-opening the question for organic union" as compared with body's decision to appoint an ad interim committee to study the problem of unification of the churches in border states under two Presbyteries and the two assemblies with view to relieving the situation. The message to the northern church was sent in reply to a telegram from Moderator Charles F. Wishart, stating "we reaffirm our desire and declare our purpose to continue our activities for the realization of one Presbytery and one assembly immediately to the White House. President McKinley summoned his cabinet in special session and Adjutant General Corbin was called in for service. Then a cablegram was dispatched to General Chaffee, in command of the American forces at Tien Tsin, informing him of the whole situation. He was given a perfectly free hand, though the issue was actual war."

It happened that on that afternoon the British troops were in conference at Tien Tsin again debating the course to be pursued. When the cablegram was handed to General Chaffee he opened and read it, placed it in his pocket, and rising to his feet, he said: "I should be very glad to have company—the more the better. But they go at any rate, even if alone."

Immediately the British commander was at his feet.

"I'm with you," he declared. "The British troops will march with the Americans tomorrow morning."

One by one, though not all enthusiastically, the other commanders agreed and at daybreak began the famous march, headed by a little detachment of American marines. It resulted in the release of the legation but a few hours before the time set for their extermination by the Boxers.

90,000 VICTIMS OF CANCER IN U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 23.—Cancer claimed 90,000 victims in the United States last year and 180,000 more will die within the next 10 years, all of whom might have been saved, at least had the course of their disease mitigated by prompt diagnosis and expert treatment, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood of the Crocker Cancer Research Laboratory, who today addressed the State Medical Society.

Relief from cancer, he said, must come first from awakening of the public to the danger of the disease by the means of publicity work of the American Society of the Control of Cancer.

Then Dr. Wood said, family physicians must make early diagnosis and submit their cases immediately to competent surgeons.

United States Began March In Boxer Uprising

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Discussion here of the plight of the foreigners held captive in Shantung province have brought to light for the first time an interesting chapter of the Boxer incident in 1900, when the foreign colony in Peking was besieged and threatened with death.

As related today by a distinguished American army officer, now retired but at that time occupying a high position in the War Department, the story discloses that it was the United States which started the march on Peking for relief of the besieged nationals. In taking the initiative in the international movement of troops this government acted on information which had not yet come into the possession of any of the other powers.

So unusual was the method by which Washington kept advised of the situation, and so great a responsibility descended on the shoulders of those who provided it, that the details now public relate for the first time never were made a matter of official record.

The story turns upon the fact that the Chinese minister at Washington in 1900 was Wang Tsiang, who recently died in the harness as foreign minister for President Sun Yat Sen's Canton government. He was a man of singular ability largely sympathetic with the American viewpoint. One of his closest associates was the famous Chinese Tschun, Yuan Shih Kai, at that time governor of the great province Chihli which includes Peking, and later emperor.

While the legation and foreigner were in the hands of the Boxers, the compound in Peking by the Boxers were, they were almost completely cut off from communication with their home government and the outside world. The Chinese government itself, however, by the old Empress Dowager, herself bitterly anti-foreign, was known to be sympathetic with the Boxer movement, though professedly taking no part in it. In consequence that government gave no assistance to the powers that were making frantic efforts to get in touch with their besieged diplomatic representatives.

It was at this juncture that the friendship between Wu Ting Fang and Yuan Shih Kai became a most valuable asset. At great personal risk, because discovery of his activities would have cost him his life when he returned to China, Minister Wu induced Yuan Shih Kai by secret means to get into communication with the legation. Soon afterwards, through this agency, the first news reached Washington that the prisoners had not been killed outright as was first reported, although they were entrenched and in great need of help.

A large international army had gathered at Tien Tsin and daily conferences were in progress there. Some of the commanders were disposed to move slowly under the belief that a release could be effected without recourse to actual combat. At this juncture came a message from Yuan Shih Kai to Wu in Washington saying that a date very near had been set by the Boxer chiefs for a tremendous slaughter upon the legation compound and the massacre of all the legationaries.

Wu in haste visited the State Department and laid the message before Secretary Hay who then carried it immediately to the White House. President McKinley summoned his cabinet in special session and Adjutant General Corbin was called in for service. Then a cablegram was dispatched to General Chaffee, in command of the American forces at Tien Tsin, informing him of the whole situation. He was given a perfectly free hand, though the issue was actual war."

It happened that on that afternoon the British troops were in conference at Tien Tsin again debating the course to be pursued. When the cablegram was handed to General Chaffee he opened and read it, placed it in his pocket, and rising to his feet, he said: "I should be very glad to have company—the more the better. But they go at any rate, even if alone."

Immediately the British commander was at his feet.

"I'm with you," he declared. "The British troops will march with the Americans tomorrow morning."

50,000 VICTIMS OF CANCER IN U. S.

William McAdoo Agrees To Give His Deposition

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—William G. McAdoo, who has been listed as a defense witness in the Morris trial, has agreed to give his deposition in the case here within the next few days. After arranging today with Justice Stafford to have the deposition taken, counsel for the defense said it did not necessarily follow that Mr. McAdoo would not be called to testify in person.

The former Secretary of the Treasury is now in Washington and attorney for the defense said it had been decided to take a deposition as a precautionary measure. The evidence will be held secret until the deposition is offered in evidence, or Mr. McAdoo is called in person to testify after the defense begins the presentation of its case to the jury. That time is probably six weeks distant.

Mr. McAdoo after resigning from the cabinet became counsel for the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, a Morse concern, and in that capacity he made representation to the Shipping Board in behalf of his client. The government has charged that these representations were in fact erroneous but there was no intimation that Mr. McAdoo had any reason to believe that the facts were other than represented by his client.

At the trial today, Attorney Nash Rockwood of the defense counsel undertook to break down the testimony yesterday of Norman C. Finster, an expert accountant, that more than $300,000 of the first payment of $360,000 by the Emergency Fleet Corporation to the Groton Iron Works on account of the contract for wooden hulls for the government was spent on "private work" at the Noank and Groton plants. The cross examination lasted all day and will be continued tomorrow at the one session to be held by the court in the afternoon. Finster testified that the statement of the expenditures of the $360,000 which he had prepared represented his own analysis of the expenditures, based on the Croton books and other supporting papers.

Finster, he testified, was without personal knowledge as to whether some of the materials purchased and charged by him to "private work" went into ships building for private account or for the government.

Stating that he knew the Groton for two schooners on private account, the witnesses denied emphatically that all of the materials purchased for those schooners had gone into the hulls constructed for the government.

FORGET PRACTICE BE HELD TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—One of the chief points in the international controversy over the elevation of guns on battleships will be decided soon when the dreadnaught Maryland engages in target practice off the Virginia Capes.

The Maryland will fire her sixteen inch guns at a target 25,000 yards away, the maximum range of visibility at sea. Naval men will watch the outcome of the practice with much interest. If the Maryland proves that she can hit the target at 25,000 yards with reasonable accuracy it is probable that the effort to give all ships of the line the same range will be revived with greater energy than before.

Some naval men have taken the position that there was no need for such an extreme range for the reason that it would be next to impossible to hit a vessel at such a distance.

Mr. Hooper Again Chosen Chairman Of Labor Board

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 23.—Otto Ben W. Hooper, former governor of Tennessee, today was re-elected chairman of the United States railroad labor board for 1923. G. W. W. Hanger, public group member, was re-elected vice-chairman.

Early reports stated that Mr. Hanger had been asked to be a candidate to succeed Chairman Hooper. Today Mr. Hanger issued a formal statement, asserting he was unable to accept the chairmanship, although it had been tendered him by a majority of the membership. On his re-election, Mr. Hooper said:

"I do not care to talk about the matter. Such opposition as there was to my re-election did not have its origin in my action affecting labor questions."

The Illinois Central railroad today notified the board that its telegraphers had accepted a salary cut averaging 3 1/2 cents an hour. The carrier withdrew all pending disputes over rules and wages, declaring the controversies adjusted.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad has increased the pay of 4,336 clerks from 1 to 3 cents an hour, the board was advised, while the Central of Georgia raised the monthly salaries of its bridge and building foremen, assistants and section foremen $5. Its bridge and building mechanics 2 cents an hour and established a flat rate of 18 cents an hour for track labor.

Almost 650 clerks and station employees, and maintenance of way and section foremen of the Norfolk Southern have been raised 2 cents an hour, while the Georgia railway has boosted its bridge and building foremen $9.70 a month, their assistants $12.80 a month, its section foremen $6.22 to $13.72 a month, and its dumpers from $1.94 to $19.96 a month.

MASONS OFFER TO ARBITRATE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Mason Builders' Association today offered to arbitrate differences with two thousand brick layers now on strike, if the men would immediately return to work.

Chairman Fogarty, of the strikers, declared the union would consent to arbitrate other points, such as working conditions, if the wage increases were granted, but the increase from $10 to $12 a day, with a two year contract, was imperative.

Most of the brick layers are said to be receiving more than the union wage while on strike, working for independent builders. Seven contractors have already resigned from the Builders' Organization and granted the higher wage, according to union officials.

FREIGHT RECORD MADE

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 23.—Railroad loading of revenue freight for the week ending May 12 totaled 974,321 cars, the greatest loadings on record of any since November 4, 1922 and within four per cent. of the greatest in history according to reports to the American Railway Association. The week's loadings were an increase of 207,433 over the corresponding period last year and off 223,345 over the corresponding week in 1921.

Liberals Beaten In Fosdick Case

(By The Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—Fundamentalists opposed to the liberalism of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, tonight forced through the Presbyterian General Assembly a resolution directing the New York Presbytery to require the preaching in the First Church of New York City to conform to the Presbyterian doctrine.

Led by William Jennings Bryan and two Philadelphia ministers, the Rev. A. Gordon McLennan, and the Rev. Clarence E. McCartney, the conservatives won a five hour fight by a vote of 439 to 359, a majority of 80 to substitute their resolution for a liberal report from the committee on bills and overtures.

The resolution is the outgrowth of an overture adopted by the Philadelphia Presbytery last October protesting against the doctrine contained in a sermon preached by Dr. Fosdick in the First Presbyterian Church in New York on May 21, 1921.

QUESTION OF FREE SERVICE IS PENDING MATTER

(By The Associated Press)

It would be taken on the proposal to establish charges for the work until further data is collected from the various Reserve Banks.

INDIGESTION RELIEVED WITH NEW CORDIAL

New Cordial Called "Anti-Ferment." Originated by a Druggist and Recommended by Physicians, Neutralizes Acid Condition of Stomach, Prevents Fermentation and Brings Instant Relief.

MONEY BACK IF YOU ARE NOT PROMPTLY RELIEVED

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart-burn, sour stomach, gripping pains, dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even sick, nervous headaches are now directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs.

The food sour before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Ferment.

Anti-Ferment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, cleanses and sweetens the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices, giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Ferment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. It will improve your appetite, give you restful sleep and make you feel better than you ever felt in your life—adv.

Luis Firpo Signs Up Articles For His Bout With Willard July 7th

BY HARRY NEWMAN

NEW YORK, May 24.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine boxer, stepped into Madison Square Garden today and signed to fight Jess Willard, of Kansas, on or about July 7 on a battle field to be selected later. For several days there has been a suspicion that Firpo had an idea that he had grown a bit bigger than the boxing game. He at first couldn't see the terms offered him to meet Willard. But his friends straightened him out and this afternoon he came through with the necessary signature. Willard already has agreed to terms—20 per cent. for him and 20 per cent. for Firpo. The match may never be held, however. There is a report that the bout will be staged at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, for the reason that the New York commission because of Willard's age, is dead set against it. We are inclined to believe that New Jersey will get the big row if it is put on at all.

At Manhasset, L. I., today we took a sly at Eugene Criqui, the French featherweight champion, who is to battle Johnny Kilbane at the Polo Grounds, on June 2, for the featherweight championship of the world.

KEARNS SAYS DEMPSEY HAS HARDEST FIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
SHELBY, Mont., May 23.—Jack Dempsey faces the "hardest fight of his career," he said today. He is to battle Tom Gibbons of St. Paul, July 4, it was declared today by Jack Kearns, manager for the heavyweight champion. Kearns was the guest today at a luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce of this city where the bout will be staged.

"Dempsey is up against the hardest fight of his career," because Gibbons is a hard hitter and "the best boxer in the world," Kearns said, and he also stated that if the fight went over as it looks it would, he would, "not be surprised" to see the winner of the match and Harry Williams, negro, heavyweight, fight for the world championship in Shelby, Labor Day. Kearns stated that since signing the articles he had been offered half a million dollars to stage the Dempsey-Gibbons battle at the Polo Grounds in New York. He did not state, however, who made the offer.

Kinks 'o' the Links

How long has it been since an American golfer has won the British amateur championship? In what year did Robert Gardner, captain of the American team, now in England, make such a good showing?

Walter J. Travis, an American citizen but an Australian by birth, won the British amateur title in 1904, just 19 years ago. Since that time American golfers have tried in vain to bring back the championship from over there. Robert Gardner in 1920 went to the thirty-seventh hole in the final round before going down to defeat.

A and B drive their ball into a hazard. A takes two shots to get out of the hazard, then discovers that he has played his competitor's ball. Is it possible for him to then play his own ball without incurring any penalty?

In a hazard, if a competitor play more than one stroke with a ball other than his own, and the mistake be discovered before he has played another stroke with the wrong ball from outside the limits of the hazard, he shall incur no penalty provided he then play his own ball.

Who defeated Robert Gardner, captain of the 1923 American amateur golf team for the British amateur title in 1920?

Gardner lost to Cyril Tolley in 1920 after carrying the great English player to the thirty-seventh hole. Tolley is the player who made such a big hit at Boston last season as a member of the English team that sought the American amateur title.

Johnny Kilbane

Eleven Years A Champion

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion of the World.
Copyright, 1923, by NEA Service, Inc., in United States and all foreign countries that have copyright laws. Reproduction is prohibited.

IN one of the previous chapters I told of making weight for Kid Williams, then bantam champ, and of giving weight for Benny Leonard, Freddie Welsh and other lightweights.

But despite the fact I've gone out of my class many times, I firmly believe that doing so is a bad thing for a fighter. He should stay in his class by all means.

The chief reason a boxer goes after bigger fellows is overconfidence. And overconfidence, as I have often said, is a bad thing no matter how you look at it.

In a small man a few pounds makes a world of difference. When a man's a heavyweight a few pounds won't matter so much, but to a featherweight they certainly do. If a fellow has risen to the top of his class, he should be satisfied to keep within its ranks.

New Weights.
And right here I want to say that I believe there should be a "restatement" of weights for all boxers. I believe the limits should be established once and for all ought to be 115 pounds for bantams, 125 pounds for featherweights, 135 pounds for lightweights, 145 pounds for welterweights, 155 pounds for middleweights and all over 160 should be considered heavyweights. Flyweight limits are all right.

There should be no such thing as a light-heavyweight or junior lightweight. An effort is now being made to create a 140-pound division. This is all wrong. These new weights, in my opinion, are always created to suit a certain individual, and if the "keeper" keeps up there will be more champions than ordinary boxers!

It was about in 1919 that I began handling my own business. I wanted along and I took on some fights with Alvie Miller, Artie Root and Freddie Jacks. It was while training for my next championship fight, however, in 1921, with Danny Frush, that a lifelong ambition began to take definite shape.

Will Have School.
I was training for the Frush fight out on the road to Vermilion, Ohio, and decided now was the time to buy a big farm, where eventually I could have a sort of training school for business men, where they could come for about a month in the summer to get real physical training. I found the ideal spot at last, a 65-acre tract between Lorain and Ver-million. It is right on the edge of Lake Erie, and since buying the place, I have built a temporary house and gym and have cultivated the ground. It is a beautiful place, and we go there in the summer months to get back to nature, as it were. A pair of eagles have built a big nest nearby and one of the sights of the place is those two big birds, with four young white-headed eagles, flying about.

I have built my own electrical plant, own gas plant, and my own water system. It is an ideal place, and although I haven't gotten it quite ready for the training school idea, which will be used as a supplement to a class for business men I plan for Cleveland, it is "coming along nicely."

But I am a bit off the subject. Danny Frush is the subject, and my battle with him at Cleveland for the championship makes interesting reading.

What happened an hour before the Frush fight, that the public doesn't know to this day? Champion Kilbane tells of it in his next article.

BOSTON CLUB ALMOST SOLD

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 23.—Near consummation of a deal for the purchase of the Boston American League baseball club by Columbus capital was announced here today by E. M. Schoenborn, on his arrival from Chicago, where he conferred with U. J. (Short) Herrman, part owner of the Red Sox.

Under terms of the proposed purchase, possession of the team would be given to the Columbus men at the close of the present season. Associated with Mr. Schoenborn, a former president of the Columbus American Association club, in the deal are Dr. Robert B. Drury and Palmer Winslow, local glass manufacturer.

While the purchase price and other details have been agreed upon, Mr. Schoenborn said, a brief investigation would be necessary before the deal was finally closed.

While the purchase price was not made public, it is believed it was more than $1,000,000.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 23.—It was learned here tonight that a deal for the purchase of the Boston American club has been on the fire for several days. Dr. Robert Drury and E. M. Schoenborn of Columbus, Ohio, visited Chicago and talked terms with U. J. (Sport) Herrman, who is part owner of the Red Sox. Ban Johnson, president of the American League, also was consulted but said tonight that he was not in a position to give out any facts in connection with the prospective transaction. In the absence of definite information, it is safe to say that Harry Frazee, president of the Red Sox, still demands in excess of $1,000,000 for the park, team and franchise.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—Attendance at the Americanization classes conducted by the Board of Education has shown an increase of 60 per cent. over 1922 according to school authorities today.

NATURE'S WAY TO BEAUTY

Fairmont, W. Va.—"I suffered for about six years with serious feminine trouble. At last I had to take to my bed. I was so weak I could hardly raise up. I suffered for ten weeks enough to die. Three doctors said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation or face sure death. I sent to the drug store and got a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I also a box of Dr. Pierce's Purifying Lotion Tablets and used both exactly according to the directions. When I had used these wonderful remedies only one week I could go around in the house and assist with my work. I now can do all my own work and some for others, too. I can't praise Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicines enough. They will doubtless do as much for others as they did for me."—Mrs. Clara B. FLYERS PLAN RETURN.

San Diego, Cal., May 23.—Lieutenants Oakley G. Kelly and John A. MacReady, army aviators who brought the T-2 across from New York to San Diego in 27 hours, plan to start their return east in the big monoplane tomorrow at 8 a. m. The flying program calls for four stops. El Paso, Texas; Fort Sill, Lawton, Okla.; St. Louis, Mo. and Dayton, O. They hope to fly from Dayton to Washington on the morning of June 1. They have planned to stop at Dayton May 28 and to have the big monoplane overhauled at McCook before flying on to the capital.

At Last a "Seeing Phone"

The weakness of this "seeing phone" is that the user sees herself and not the party at the other end of the line. It's the latest fad in San Francisco society. Miss Thama Speed is shown using a combination portable vanity case and telephone. Miss Speed says the new invention saves time, as one may now "make up" while making a call.

New Version Of "Anvil Chorus"

Cronus, Germany's strong man, allows two fellows to play the "anvil"

BILLS SWAMP LEGISLATURES

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 23.—A deluge of 24,000 to 50,000 bills has flooded the 1923 sessions of the 12 legislatures of forty-three states and the year will see the statute books swamped with 12,000 to 14,000 new laws. The inundation of proposed laws during the winter has held so much radicalism so the National Industrial Council declared tonight, that industries and commerce have had a "miraculous" escape from anti-industrial legislation.

"Seldom before in the history of American industry," says the report,
 "has the volume of anti-industrial legislation appearing in the various states been so great, as it has this year, nor the range of radicalism and the degree of its aggressiveness in legislative proposals so wide."

In sixteen state legislatures this year, the volume of proposed bills exceeded one thousand. In New York 3,402 bills were introduced, out of which about 809 are expected to survive.

"GOD OF VENGEANCE" ACTORS, 13 IN ALL, CONVICTED IN COURT

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 23.—Thirteen persons, including the cast and Harry Wienberger, producer of the play,
 "Good of Vengeance," were convicted by a jury today of producing an immoral show.

The jury deliberated less than two hours. Rudolph Schildkraut, noted Vi-enne actor, who played the leading role; Miss Virginia McFadden and James Meighan, three members of the cast of 13, all of whom were convicted, were not present when the verdict was announced.

The entire cast, with Wienberger, was indicted several months ago under a section of the State penal laws Judge John P. McIntyre, who tried the case, said he would not be severe in imposing sentence. The maximum penalty, it was said, is three years in prison or a fine of $500.

Wienberger, who conducted the defense, cites plays from Shakespeare and others in his contention that the performance was not indecent or salacious and that it taught a moral lesson.

"Even though a moral lesson was sought to be taught," Judge McIntyre said in charging the jury, "this cannot be done by lines, or words, or action that might amount to immorality or obscenity. The fact that Shakespeare gave fit to write in a manner that might be characterized as salacious is no defense in this case."

The conviction, it was said, was the first of its kind in 30 years, the last being for presentation of the play
 "Orange Blossoms."

The defendants were released in $300 bail each for sentence June 23.

MORGAN ANNOUNCES HIS FIRM WILL UNDERWRITE PART OF AUSTRIAN LOAN

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 23.—J. P. Morgan today announced he had advised the loan commission of Austria that his banking house was prepared to organize a syndicate to underwrite $25,000,000 of the $130,000,000 Austrian reconstruction loan.

Mr. Morgan said, in a prepared statement, that he informed the Austrian Commission his firm was ready to act when the time was ripe for making the issue to be divided among the leading countries of the world.

Mr. Morgan declared his firm stood ready to undertake the work because it believed the bond to be well secured and because it marked a step toward improving business conditions of the world.

Pursuant to an order of the Corporation Court of Danville, in the chancery cause of Ada Harrison Davis vs
 B. A. Harrison et al., at the May, 1923 term thereof, I will offer for sale at public auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, JUNE 6, 1923,

AT 5 O'CLOCK P. M.

 ments thereon, beginning on Gay street at the corner of Lot No. 21 on page 406); thence along line of said

 H. Harrison by Theodore Royalty in his deed of December, 1922, recorded in Deed Book, 38, at Page 216.
